DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 34-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 34-36, line 5, it is unclear how Applicant defines what is "coarse." The specification provides no guidance as to how "coarse" would be measured.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Naples (US 3279900).

For claims 34-36, Naples discloses the invention as claimed including a pad 1 made from a cellulosic pulp and saturated (see the patent claims) with wax. Since the pad is packaged in a container 4, is shipped, and received from a store (see col. 2, lines 58-63), the paraffin is necessarily in a hardened state after the pad 1 is treated with it.

However, to the extent that the product-by-process limitations necessarily distinguish the invention from the prior art, the examiner has noted that the applicant's specification does not set forth that such differences unexpectedly solve some problem in the art nor unexpectedly provide some new result when compared with the applied art. Accordingly, such differences appear to be a mere matter of design choice. ("If the product in a product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." MPEP §2113 quoting In re Thorpe, et al., 227 USPQ 964, 966 (CAFC 1985))

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 19, 22, and 27-33 are allowable.

With respect to claims 27-33, the examiner found various references, such as Naples, cited above, that teach saturating the porous carrier with the liquefied solid fuel. However, the examiner was not able to find a reference that teaches a reason or motivation to modify the process of Strickman so that instead of being dipped the the porous carrier is impregnated "with a liquefied solid fuel such that the liquefied solid fuel is dispersed throughout the porous carrier."

Response to Amendments and Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 34-36 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Rutherford (US 2007694) disclose soaking cut blocks of vegetable fiber board with paraffin.
